

Market Regulations

These regulations govern the operation, administration, and management of Green City Market (GCM). These regulations are in place to ensure a successful and safe market experience for all. Regulations also ensure vendor compliance with Green City Market, City of Chicago, Chicago Park District, and Department of Cultural Affairs and Special Events permits, as well as federal and state laws and food safety standards. GCM will implement and enforce all regulations pertaining to the operation of the Market. Vendors who violate any regulations will be subject to an immediate review of eligibility to participate in the market program as violations have the potential to put the entire market program at risk. GCM may modify these Market regulations at any time, and take any reasonable action to enforce them up to and including removal from the market. GCM requires all participants in the Market to be members in good standing as set forth in these regulations.

ABOUT GREEN CITY MARKET

Green City Market is securing the future of food by deepening support for sustainable farmers, educating our community, and expanding access to locally-grown food. We operate nine distinct yet interconnected programs to accomplish a deep impact across the city of Chicago.

COMMUNITY COMMITMENT

In addition to the market regulations outlined in this document, all community members – including vendors and any representatives of vendors – agree to read, understand, and abide by the market’s Community Commitment.

EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

All vendors agree to read, understand, and abide by the market’s Emergency Action Plan.

GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR FARMERS

- A farm may be a sole proprietorship, partnership, or corporation.
- Farmers must have one of our approved third-party sustainability certifications of their growing or animal husbandry practices to reflect their commitment to the Market’s mission. A list of approved certifications can be found on Green City Market’s website, here. Farmers who are in pursuit of third-party certification or have extenuating circumstances that prevent a third-party certification should contact farmersupport@greencitymarket.org to discuss your farm’s unique situation.
- Farmers may not use the term “organic” at GCM unless their farm is certified organic by a USDA accredited third-party certifier and the farmer has submitted the current certification documentation with their GCM application.
- While we do not accept farmers who use hydroponic farming exclusively; vendors may use hydroponic farming to supplement their product. Hydroponic production must utilize nutrients that are OMRI approved for organic production. Farmers/vendors utilizing hydroponic growing techniques will be subject to approval on a case-by-case basis.

- The resale of agricultural products is strictly prohibited, unless the product(s) are approved by GCM as an associate vendor.

FARMERS SELLING READY-TO-EAT AND PREPARED FOODS

A farmer may sell ready-to-eat, prepared or processed goods if the ingredients are sourced from their farm. The farmer may have a third party produce the goods (jams, cider, sausages, cheese, pickled vegetables, salsas, etc.) only if the farmer is: involved in the development of the recipe and responsible for the quality and safety of the end product.

Farmers selling ready-to-eat and prepared foods must meet the following guidelines:

- Farmers must provide Green City Market all required licenses and certificates from the third-party facility/processor, and include ingredient lists for every processed product in their application. Farmers selling ready-to-eat foods, prepared foods, or value-added products must follow the Cottage Food Laws, county, state, FDA and USDA requirements. Vendors are solely responsible for knowing and acquiring all necessary licenses (see "Required Licenses, Certifications & Supporting Documents" section).
- If the majority of the product being sold by a farmer throughout the entire season is a ready-to-eat/prepared/processed food, rather than fresh product or frozen meat, the Applications Committee may require them to be involved in the production.
- Farmers selling cider or any other value-added product based on a product from their farm must have their farm product processed by a batch processing method or other method that creates a clearly traceable audit trail from farm product to finished "value added" product. Documentation of this process must be submitted with the application.

GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR READY-TO-EAT AND PREPARED FOOD VENDORS

ROLE OF READY-TO-EAT & PREPARED FOOD AT GCM

The primary purpose of ready-to-eat and prepared food vendors at GCM is to showcase the locally-grown, seasonal bounty of our Midwestern farmers. These vendors should provide shoppers with creative ideas, and highlight that locally-grown fruits, vegetables, and locally-made food products can be used as the base of a wide range of multicultural dishes. The offerings at prepared food vendor stands should be curated, limited, and change with the seasons.

- Ready-to-eat and prepared food vendors must:
 - Source ingredients directly from GCM producers whenever the product is available
 - This includes vegetables, fruits, cheese, eggs, herbs, proteins, grains, bread, buns for sandwiches, sauces, jams, preserves, pickles, etc.
 - Here is a list of GCM vendors + their products
 - Source ingredients directly from non-GCM producers whenever the product is not available through a GCM producer; non-GCM producer sources must:
 - be located within the four-state region of Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, and Michigan
 - Possess a GCM-approved sustainability certification.
 - Flour must be sourced from grain that is grown and milled locally and sustainably. As stated above, flour should be sourced from GCM producers whenever possible. Additionally, producers and millers who are members of the Artisan Grain Collaborative are deemed accessible sources.
 - Dairy, including milk, cream, butter, cheese and yogurt, must be sourced from farms located in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, or Wisconsin that raise animals with demonstrated and documented sustainable farming + production practices. As stated above, dairy should be sourced from GCM producers whenever possible.

- Ingredients that are not available locally or not available from GCM vendors shall be credibly sourced ethically and sustainably.
 - For example, sugar must be sourced from a sustainable source as it is not a locally-grown product.
- Sourcing from wholesalers or other retailers is not acceptable
- Non-local oils, spices, vinegars, and other pantry staples are allowable as ingredients in prepared food but will not necessarily be approved for sale as stand-alone products.
- Ready-to-eat and prepared food vendors must produce their products within the four-state region of Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, and Michigan.
- GCM requires that all ready-to-eat food vendors be involved in the production of the products they intend to sell. Vendors must create the recipe for the product; oversee and guide the production of the product in the processing facility or kitchen; and ensure the safety and quality of the product.
- All ready-to-eat and prepared food vendors must understand and comply with all cottage food, county, and state and health department regulations.

Vendors and/or anyone representing a vendor's business at GCM are responsible for knowing where their ingredients are grown and/or sourced, production methods, how their products support local agriculture and sustainability, and common allergen information.

GENERAL PRODUCT REQUIREMENTS

As a reminder, all vendor products must be approved by GCM via Manage My Market and must:

- Be grown or produced in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, or Wisconsin
- Reference Midwest seasonality and/or reflect season extension practices.
- Green City Market is a “producer only” market. This means that farmers may only sell products they have grown on their own land or land that they control, and ready-to-eat and prepared food vendors may sell only food that they have personally created. GCM allows extremely limited exceptions, through the Associate Vendor policies (see below for explanation of these policies).

- GCM reserves the right to prohibit a vendor from selling product(s) whether or not it has been previously approved.
- Upon application process, Individual recipes must be submitted via the Ingredients List Form and submitted to Manage my Market.

PRODUCT VALIDITY

GCM reserves the right to request proof of any product's origin and has the right to inspect any vendor's stated location of product production, at any reasonable time, without prior notice. A vendor must submit proof of a product's site of production upon request. Failure to provide the necessary information will constitute a violation of GCM regulations.

PRODUCT QUALITY

GCM reserves the right to undertake a quality review of any product sold at the market at any time. Vendors will be notified in writing if GCM decides to further review a product(s). GCM will review/sample the product within a two-week period and do one of the following:

- o Allow the vendor to continue selling the product in its current state.
- o Recommend a specific change to the product to improve the quality, or the source/sourcing of the product or ingredient.

PROHIBITED PRODUCTS

- Any product that is illegal and/or not approved for sale in the market location

PREPARED AND READY-TO-EAT FOODS

During the application process, all ready-to-eat and prepared foods will be evaluated by their individual recipes. Recipes must be submitted via the Ingredients List Form and submitted to Manage my Market.

Recipes will be evaluated as follows:

- Individual recipes must feature seasonal ingredients sourced from GCM producers, and these ingredients shall be highlighted or used in a substantial way.
 - For example, blueberries should be used during blueberry season; apples should be used during apple season. etc. Garnishes, such as a single blueberry or basil flower placed on top of a pastry does not fulfill this requirement.
- Individual recipes may not feature non-local, or non-seasonal ingredients
 - For example, while a pineapple-upside-down cake may feature a majority of local flour by volume in its recipe; however, because the feature ingredient that is recognizable to a customer is the pineapple, a non-local ingredient, the product would not be an approved item.
- Seasonally-shifted items (jarred, pickled, canned, frozen) are acceptable in ready-to-eat foods when there is no available fresh product.
 - Frozen blueberries can be used in blueberry muffins outside of blueberry season, jarred tomatoes outside of tomato season, etc.
 - All seasonally-shifted items are required to be sourced from GCM growers and producers.

PRESERVED FOODS

Frozen

Seasonally shifted frozen products are only allowed to be sold by a GCM grower or producer as a way to extend their season and economic sustainability. Seasonally shifted frozen items must be grown by the farmer and processed in a licensed facility. E.g., Frozen chestnuts may be sold by a chestnut farmer, and frozen fruit may be sold by a fruit grower.

Updated March 15, 2024

Dried

Dried fruit and herbs are acceptable if they are sourced from GCM vendors. Vendors are encouraged to use fresh, seasonal ingredients. No ready-to-eat food vendor is allowed to sell dried fruit mixes or dried herbs "as is." This may only be done by the farmer who produced the original fresh product.

Jarred/Canned

Jarred or canned products must feature ingredients solely sourced from GCM growers and producers.

PET PRODUCTS

Pet products are only allowed at GCM when they are the direct by-product of the primary agricultural product or practice. GCM reserves the right to limit the sale of pet products.

AGRICULTURAL BY-PRODUCTS

Non-food items are only allowed at GCM when they are the direct by-product of the primary agricultural product or practice. For example, soap made from goat milk is allowed if sold by a goat milk producer, or when the goat is utilized in the production of other food products that are also sold at market (E.G.: manure for crops; milk for feed). GCM reserves the right to limit the sale of non-food products.

NEW PRODUCTION SUBMISSIONS

After acceptance into the market program, if a vendor would like to add additional products and/or change an approved product's recipe, vendors must submit a New Product Application Form. Vendors must receive approval for new products prior to offering them for sale.

MARKET REGULATION VIOLATIONS

These regulations govern the operation, administration, and management of Green City Market (GCM). These regulations are in place to ensure a successful and safe market experience for all. Regulations also ensure vendor compliance with Green City Market, City of Chicago, Chicago Park District, and Department of Cultural Affairs and Special Events permits, as well as federal, state, and city food safety standards. GCM may modify these Market regulations at any time. If a regulation modification is made, GCM will provide written notice by email to the contact provided by the vendor in a reasonable amount of time.

GCM offers an annual training session prior to the start of the outdoor season to provide vendors an opportunity to engage in education and gain a better understanding of the market regulations; however it is the responsibility of each vendor to understand and adhere to all market regulations.

All market regulation violations will be documented in writing in GCM's market management system.

Vendors who violate any regulation may be subject to an immediate review of eligibility to participate in the market program as violations have the potential to put the entire market program at risk. GCM reserves the right to take any reasonable action to enforce market regulations up to and including removal from the market.

The written notice will also include notice that if the vendor violates market regulations for the fourth time, a fine will be immediately assessed and will be due prior to the market immediately following the issuance of the notice. Additionally, the vendor will be notified that continued violations of the market program will result in the vendor's ability to participate in current and future market programs.

Fourth Violation: Fine and Participation Assessment

If the violation continues to persist, the vendor will be issued an additional $250 fine as well as a final written warning. This final written warning will clearly state that any further violations will result in an assessment of the vendors' continued participation in the current market season and a possible termination of the ability to participate.

A vendor who is removed from GCM forfeits all monies paid to GCM for fees.

MARKET REGULATION VIOLATION APPEALS PROCESS

Vendors have a fair opportunity to contest unfounded claims and address any misunderstandings or inaccuracies related to market regulation violations and the remediation process.

The appeals process outlined below aims to promote accountability, foster trust between vendors and GCM, and ultimately strengthen the integrity of our market program.

Submission of Appeal

If the vendor believes a market violation notice or community complaint claim is unfounded or based on misinformation, they may submit an appeal in writing to exec@greencitymarket.org within 14 days of receipt of the complaint.

The appeal must include:

- Detailed rebuttal of the claim, addressing each point individually
- Factual supporting evidence or documentation refuting the allegations
- Any relevant policies, procedures, or regulations that support the vendor's position

Review of Appeal

The GCM Board of Directors Executive Committee will conduct a fair, impartial, and thorough review of the appeal of the documentation of the complaint or violation as well as the appeals submission at its next scheduled meeting. The committee will take all reasonable measures to maintain confidentiality of sensitive information shared during the appeals process, protecting both the vendor's and Green City Market's best interests.

Appeal Decision and Notification

The committee will make a decision based on the evidence presented and will make one of the following determinations:

- Appeal Upheld: If the committee finds in favor of the vendor, the claim is dismissed, and any penalties or sanctions will be lifted.
- Appeal Denied: If the committee upholds the original claim, the vendor will be notified of the decision along with reasons for the denial in writing via the email address provided in the application process.

The decision is final and marks the conclusion of the appeals process.

Implementation of Decision

If the appeal is upheld, the vendor resumes normal operations without penalties. If the appeal is denied, the vendor must comply with any penalties or corrective actions outlined in the original claim.

Documentation and Record-Keeping

Throughout the appeals process, GCM will maintain detailed records of all communications, appeals, decisions, and actions taken using the organization's market management system. This documentation ensures transparency, accountability, and serves as a reference for any future disputes.
